The review of the army.

Will you be firm enough?

You will be firm. I fear you.

The rough fur. The three sheep.

The fur ruff.

We were on the high bluff by the river.

Move my muff.

The far river view.

Were you in the blue room?

How few are here!

Will William be here?

Why will you whimper?

I hear the rush of the river.

The number five. Blue or buff?

Half of the number are here.

Are the full number with you?

Are three of the number here?

Now I breathe freely.

The full number.

Brush your arm.

I fear the fire.

You threw my muff in the fire.

You are firm enough.

Will you bribe me?

Your rule will be firm.

You will blur the line.

Will you pull the wire?

The wire will burn your thumb .

I threw your muff in the river.

I fear you will burn your thumb.

The fire will burn freely.

I love the river. You are free.

Run in my room.

I move my arm freely enough now.

I will burn the pine.

The blue fire. You rule firmly.

I will flee from the fire.

The first morning.

From the north.

I have the first.

For the first we wait at the first.

For the first we wait.

For the first we wait.

For the first we wait.

For the first we wait.

For the first we wait.

For the first we wait.

For the first we wait.

William will run with you.

Will the beam move freely?

Five are in your room.

Brush the fur.

Will you relieve me?

Will you leave me the ripe olive?

Will you rely upon me?

People will breathe freely now.

The fire will burn you.

Will you furnish your room in buff?

Will you reply?

I will furnish my room in blue.

Will you remove the rubbish?

Will you polish with a brush?

Will you reprove me?

How far will you run?

Will you be far from me?

You will be far off on the river.

The reaper will be in the rear.

You will hear of the repeal of the bill.

You will repolish.

Were you in the shower?

The rough mob.

The lovely flower will fill the room with perfume.

Will the wheel revolve?

The ripple on the river.

How firm you are!

I threw your whip in the river.

A brown muffler.

A fine rural view.

I fear you will whimper.

The fine view of the river from the bluff.

In the flume near the mill.

I will vie with you.

The buff ribbon.

How tall are you?

Will you be home to night?

Will you meet me here?

Short or tall?

I want a tall broom, not a short one.

I will be in the theatre.

You naughty boy!

I will not hurt you.

Have you the ripe fruit?

I bought a pretty ribbon for you.

I will vote for you.

I hope your room will be warm enough
in winter.

I have bought a violin.

The bright light might hurt your eye.

You might be hurt by the fall.

You are right.

I will not be home to-night.

How tall are you?

Will you be home to-night?

Will you send me money?

Send me a letter.

I want a good dinner, not a bad one.

I will be in the kitchen.

For money, sir!

I will not touch you.

There you are, my brother.

I bought a good dinner for you.

I will wait for you.

I hope your horse will be well.

In winter.

I never thought a word of it.

The children like to play with you.

Your wife is well, is she not?

Yes, she is.

I will be home to-night.

Will you vote?

Were you out in the water?

Will you float near the shore?

Why will you fight over a trifle?

The boy will whittle out a boat.

The British fought all night.

Are you fleet of foot?

Will you filter the water?

No, but I will boil it.

We have the sheet of water near by.

I put the pretty ball on the floor.

What a beautiful flower!

A Hebrew tribe of forty.

I hear the sheep bleat.

I hope I will not frighten you.

Rover might frighten you.

A fine point.

You might pout over it a little.

Will you be near Fort Erie?

Won't you write a note for me?

William might not be popular with the people.

I hope you will not prowl about in the night.

How far are you from the water?

A fine view of the fort from the water.

A fine view of the water from the wharf.

You are right in your view of the trouble.

The fight near the river will be short.

We fought by the fort.

Will you be on the top of the hill?

Try to be here tomorrow a little before four.

Will you be in town all winter?

I tore off part of your sheet.

Will you tune my violin for me?

What a beautiful tulip!

I have put the flute in the other room.

Will you be good to write?

What you write is very good.

Will you be good to write?

Yes, please.

I hope you will be good to write.

Yes, please.

Will you be good to write?

I hope you will be good to write.

I hope you will be good to write.

Will you be good to write?

Yes, please.

I hope you will be good to write.

Will you be good to write?

I hope you will be good to write.

Will you be good to write?

Yes, please.

I hope you will be good to write.

Will you be good to write?

I hope you will be good to write.

Will you be good to write?

I hope you will be good to write.

I will not eat the tough meat.

Will you eat the mush?

In the moonlight or twilight?

I will tie your ribbon for you.

We live near the town on top of a hill.

The beautiful tulip tree in front of our home.

We are not far from the town.

The term will be a short one.

The title ought to be short.

We will rush to the top of the hill.

Here will be a treat for all of you.

One of my front teeth.

I will not have the muffler tight about my throat.

I bought a lot near the shore.

A short proverb will be a fine motto for you.

One hour of my time.

A ball of blue twine?

I will not see the bottom of it.

Will you not the money?

In the meantime or perhaps

I will give you a book for you.

We have been the same for a long

The beautiful early years in France at the time.

We are not the same for now.

The same will be a great thing.

The little things of the world.

We will have to be for the world.

There will be a great thing for all of you.

One of the great things.

I will not have the same thing.

There are things.

I thought a lot more for now.

A short story will be a little more.

One thing of the world.

A little of the world.

Put the oval mirror in the other room.

The boy put the foil by the root of the tree.

What a beautiful moonlight view!

We meet to-night. A sharp point?

The ripe fruit will fall from the tree.

I fear the boy will fall from the tree.

Will you be in the ship all night?

The river will be on our right in the trip from Albany.

A report will be brought in to-morrow

We might meet a few people.

Are we to meet here to-night?

Will the woman be here to-morrow?

A trip to the moon.

Will you be in our theatre party tomorrow night?

We are lonely without our brother.

My brother will be home in about a month.

In a month from now the tree will be in bloom.

A little town high up on a hill,
Though near the water we are without a fine view.

I will put off my trip for a while.
The truth will be brought out tonight probably.

Will you be in town all winter?

We were out in deep water.

Don't you wish to write for me?

We will know all about it by the third of the month.

Were you down by the river?

Were you abroad all winter?

Will it be low tide or high tide?

How do you know?

How do you do?

Will you open the door for me?

I will shut the window for you.

I doubt if you will be here in time to meet me.

How old are you? I do not know.

How wide will the hall be?

Did William wear a beard?

We were down by the lily pond.

Will you put the bird in the window?

Will you build a barn in your field
by the road?

I will wander down over the field.

The water will flood our field.

I will find the ball for you.

I will drive you down town to-night.

Will you drive out to-night?

We were on a broad road.

Were you up in the early dawn?

I told Arthur you would write to him to-night.

Will you wait for me?

I will wait for you.

I want to see you.

Yes, I will.

Will you wait for me?

I will wait for you.

I want to see you.

Yes, I will.

Will you wait for me?

I will wait for you.

Yes, I will.

Will you wait for me?

I will wait for you.

I want to see you.

Yes, I will.

Will you wait for me?

I will wait for you.

I want to see you.

Yes, I will.

I will dream about it.

No doubt you will hear the rumor.

It will dwindle to a fine point.

A dipperful of water.

We will be in town by the third of the month.

The water will drip on the floor.

Did you drop a dollar bill in the hall by the front door?

Did you drill a hole in the wall?

A high drift.

The poor blind boy will not know you.

Did you know I would be here to-night?

Did you write the note for me?

Did you ride over?

Did you row on the river?

Did you leave William in the room?

Do you ride the wheel?

I did not know you were here.

I did not write but I will,

Did you buy the field near my barn?

I did not know the people were in deep trouble,

We do not doubt you.

I hope I did not frighten you.

Did you rap on the door?

I wore a brown wrap.

What more will the man demand?

Have you a blue wrapper?

Do you believe in high tariff?

Did you wear a light wrap?

I fear the lamp will flare up too high in that draft.

Do you fear that a white phantom will appear in the night?

What value will you put on that bamboo furniture?

Were you a fat little boy?

We were all in our fine attire.

The family will be there all winter.

Do you know the truth of that matter?

I fear that we shall be thrown over the dashboard.

I would feel abashed.

Shall we appoint a time for to-morrow?

Shall we abandon the matter or merely drop it for a while?

The man will appeal for another trial.

That will be too abrupt.

Did you drive into the narrow road on your right?

Where did I put the hammers?

You ought to be there?

Will you share that apple with me?

I shall tear off a part of that sheet.

That would not be fair.

There was a great deal of the water was in the river.

The family will be there all winter.

Where did you turn off the road?

Where will you be to-night?

That will be enough.

Are you the man who thought of that plan?

Have you a map of Europe?

There will be no time.

I hope we shall land to-morrow.

I wish that you would turn up the lamp a little higher, for I need more light.

Will you have an apple pie or an apple tart? Don't be rash!

It might be too damp.

What a lot of trash!

Did the boy annoy you?

The man and boy were not there.

You should not flatter.

Another trouble will loom up before him.

A barrier between the platform and

the people.

A little hamlet high up on a hill.

You were a little barefoot boy at the time.

A little matter should not baffle you

I knew that before.

Have you found your hat?

The British won a hard fought battle.

Will you have a banana?

That man should be banished.

It might not happen to be the right man.

That would be unbearable.

What a bad habit of mine!

Will you have a little ham?

Will you have a little hominy?

When were you born?

Shall we review?

Were you there at the time?

Will you be there in half an hour?

Are you an adept in the art?

What have you on top of your head?

When shall we meet you, and where?

Do you live near Fifth Avenue?

Anywhere you wish.

Have you any fresh fish?

Do you remember me?

The apartment will be ready for you to-morrow.

Did you meet the boy on the ferry boat?

Are you ready?

Did you hear the anthem?

I remember you very well.

Don't you feel well?

How shall I let you know?

I shall be very happy to have you here.

When will you appear before the referee?

When you are ready, let me know.

The man fell from the ladder.

Have you found any error in the proof?

I went to town to buy your ribbon.

I found one error.

That measure might benefit the people.

What a very benevolent man you are!

I want the right definition of the word.

That would be a death blow to the man.

I wish you would be more definite.

I would not be nettled by that.

Do you know when the man will be home?

side you have the garden

I remember you very well, and you feel well?

How kind! I feel the same

When will you return to the city?

When you are ready, let me know.

The next day I was the answer.

That you found me again in the garden

I want to talk to you about it

I think you better

That reminds me of the old days

That is very pleasant and the old

I want you to be satisfied of me

That would be a great thing to do
and

I think you would be very satisfied

I would not be satisfied if I

Do you know what you are all on about

Would eleven be the right number?

Do you know the depth of the well?

Will you let me help you?

Don't fret over that?

The woman fled in terror.

I shall be happy to be there, if the weather should permit.

I will be there whenever you wish.

Have you a terrier?

We ought to put up a tablet in memory of the event.

When will you be there?

I want a breath of fresh air.

I have no talent for that art .

Let me find your hat for you.

I have no doubt you are an adept.

I will not attempt any more now, I am too tired.

You have no enemy.

What will the end be?

I hope the measure will prove beneficial.

I found a pretty yellow flower.

I will put a deep hem on that.

We have but one white hen.

Have you the libretto of that opera?

I shall borrow an umbrella.

I wish that we were in the park.

Have you a flock of sheep on your farm?

How do you like the book?

Did you put the book on the shelf in your room?

How would you like to have a pink flower in your bonnet?

I think that a dark coat would look better than the light one.

Did the man wear a black coat?

No, but he wore a black beard?

I like that hat better than the other one.

How thick will the book be?

How do you like the view from your back window?

I have a ball in my pocket.

Have you packed your trunk?

The pin rolled into a crack in the floor.

I wish I had a pretty book-mark.

What a crush!

Put very little coffee in my cup.

Do you walk home?

I admire your pluck.

The woman will be frantic about that matter.

It was a very long time

I spent time in the city

and I was very happy

and I was very happy

and I was very happy

I was very happy and I was very happy

and

I was very happy and I was very happy

and I was very happy and I was very happy

and I was very happy

I was very happy and I was very happy

and I was very happy and I was very happy

and I was very happy and I was very happy

and

I was very happy and I was very happy

and I was very happy

and I was very happy and I was very happy

and I was very happy

I was very happy and I was very happy

and I was very happy and I was very happy

and

I do not like to be in a crowd.

I have a crick in my back.

Shall we walk back to Fourth Avenue?

Are you cold? Will you have a crab?

I shall come a week from to-morrow.

Look at that kite high up in the air.

A beautiful book bound in red.

I can tell you better on Monday.

In what part of the book did you read about that kind of tree?

How could you think I would do that?

You are very kind, I thank you.

I hope that you can carry out your wish.

I shall put your top in the corner of your drawer.

I turned quickly around the corner.

How very queer!

You are correct in theory.

In what direction from here do you live?

[On the 11th of the month]

I live in New York.

Did you ever live in Brooklyn?

That tight shoe will cramp my foot.

What a noble action!

Queen Victoria never lived there.

The Duke of York lived there.

Have you corrected that proof?

Do you like corn bread?

Direct the reply to me in care of my brother. When can you come?

The crew of the ship are a fine lot of men.

The woman filled the bottle with a white liquid.

The woman caught up her shawl and left the room.

I like yellow corn meal better than white in winter.

I shall be home by three o'clock.

I give to thee love,

And give thee life in friendship,

That light shall still be on thee,

What a noble action!

Thou art a noble action,

For thou art giving life,

And thou art giving life,

Do you like your friend?

Yes, I like your friend,

My dear friend, I love you very much,

And I love you very much,

And I love you very much,

And I love you,

And I love you very much,

And I love you,

And I love you very much,

And I love you,

And I love you very much,

What an awkward man!

You are a very attractive woman.

The boy will come back.

Did you put the cork in the bottle?

Did you put more coal on the fire?

I hope you will not quarrel over that matter.

Do not worry over the quarrel.

I heard a heavy crash.

Have you a quarter of a dollar with you?

Will you have milk or cream?

I have a weak ankle.

When should the doctor come?

I shall have to cram.

The man went to the Arctic Ocean.

You act your part well.

Were you in the old attic?

Have you any doubt about the antiquity of the book?

That is a very good one!

You are a very active person.

We are all very busy.

Did you get the book in the post?

The first one was very interesting.

I hope you will not forget it.

I am writing.

Do not worry about the money.

I have a lot of money.

Have you a question of a letter?

Yes!

Will you be able to answer?

I have a good idea.

What would you like to know?

I still have to know.

Do not worry about the money.

You will have a good time.

Have you a good idea?

Have you a good idea?

It is a good one.

Are you an American?

I fear your action would not be approved.

You are an active little woman.

Do you feel active in warm weather?

We were under an oak tree.

I would like to have a full account of that affair.

I left my account book at home.

Will the referee require a week for the hearing?

Did you have an acute attack?

What a valuable article.

William the Conqueror might approve the action.

Did you ever have croup?

The man showed an affection for the boy.

Have you a black cloak in your wardrobe?

Shall we walk?

the day of departure

I have been often asked what I thought of the

Come into the garden.

Have you been in the garden?

I will get you a book.

Did you buy a pretty gift?

I shall be glad to go with you.

I wore a blue gown.

The man went home an hour ago.

The woman can talk very glibly.

We were in a thick fog all night.

How big will the bundle be?

The man wore a brown wig.

Will you go in the wagon?

Where did I put my other glove?

I would like to know the Grand Old Man.

How gloomy you are to-night!

Come into the warm glow of the fire.

I did not know the people were in deep grief.

Shall we go together?

I am tired of the glitter and glare.

Will you grieve over that?

We glory in the victory of our country.

We grown up people ought to know better.

Are you a member of the golf club ?

Why do you grope about in the dark?

I shall have to grin and bear it.

I do not like to go out alone after dark.

When shall we go to the grove?

And now I am a school girl.

Will you be in the school?

Good-bye! I am in school.

I would like to know the name of the new school you are attending!

There is a new school in the city.

I did not know the name of the new school.

Will you be in the school?

I am in the school.

Will you be in the school?

The school is in the city.

The school is in the city.

The school is in the city.

The school is in the city.

The school is in the city.

The school is in the city.

The school is in the city.

How tall you have grown!

That dog will growl if we go in the barn.

Do not get into that groove of thought.

William and Fred were in the group.

Will you have a little oatmeal gruel?

Do not forget to come.

Did you throw the ball on the ground?

Shall we agree to differ?

You might be angry with me.

The poet Whittier did not write an autobiography.

I have begun to doubt the man.

I thought you were very dignified.

The woman wore a calico gown.

The captain left the cargo on the wharf.

I shall have to forego the pleasure.

Will your brother forgive the man?

Will you have sugar in your tea?

Thank you, I will have both sugar

God bless you ever yours,

That day will come at last, I hope,
When

you will be able to do as much for me as I can do for you.

With love to all, I remain,

Ever your affectionate friend,

Wm. Lloyd Garrison.

Will you please send me the address of the person to whom you wish to send the money?

The money will be sent to the person to whom you wish to send it.

Very truly yours,

Wm. Lloyd Garrison.

I have no objection to your sending the money to the person to whom you wish to send it.

The money will be sent to the person to whom you wish to send it.

Will you please send me the address of the person to whom you wish to send the money?

Thank you, I will have been happy and cream.

We will glide down the river in the moonlight.

Shall we go home now?

Good night.

Good bye!

Did you ring the bell?

Are you willing to go with me?

The man wrote to me begging for money

Did you find me the book belonging to my father?

We were in a high wind blowing hard

from the north.

The ship will anchor near the shore.

Can you hear the booming of the cannon?

How shocking!

You found me borrowing an umbrella.

I have been working hard.

The man went up the hill breathing very hard.

We were all brimming over with fun.

I do not like quarreling.

I am not buying anything to-night.

I have been calling to you for a long time.

We were tired out after climbing the mountain.

Did you bring warm enough clothing with you?

I have been walking a long time and I am very tired.

The people were flocking from every direction.
I think of going to-morrow.

We were talking over that matter
when you arrived.

What do you think of camping out for a month?

What are you doing?

Are you trying to kill time?

Did I hear you coughing?

The men were digging for gold.

You are an amiable woman.

Do you think the people will favor that measure?

Did you ever go to a clam bake?

Where did I put my cane?

You are a very capable woman.

I hope you will not complain of me.

I gave the man your name.

Shall we wait for you?

Come out on the lake awhile.

I will take you down town in the morning.

Did you wake up early?

I hope the boy will grow up to be a brave man.

Will you go out in the pouring rain?

An attack of gout may prevent my uncle from coming.

You talk very plainly but no doubt you mean well.

You will find the book on the table in my room.

In your letter the question was asked

What was the result?

It was answered in a brief reply

There was a great deal of work

Too much a very special manner

I hope you will not consider it as

I have the same great work

Which we will not find

Which we will not find

I will take you down to the

which

Did you ever see any

I have the same great work

which

Will you ever see any

Which we will not find

Which we will not find

Which we will not find

Which we will not find

Which we will not find

Which we will not find

Are you a native of New York?

I am going to Portland, Maine, for a month.

I do not blame you.

Can you give me a remedy to relieve my pain?

Do you remember the multiplication
table?

I am going to buy another acre of land.

Are you acquainted with the man?

The English people are a powerful nation.

Come out and have a game of golf.

That will pave the way for you.

He acted with deliberation.

Your land may depreciate in value.

Both men are well educated.

Will you go up town by the elevated road?

The man might evade the law.

We may not be familiar with that poem

When I came I found your gate wide open.

And you are native to the land?

[He looks at [Lambert], then, for a moment.

I am not a native.

How long have you been in the country?

Not long.

Do you remember the first day?

Yes.

[He looks to the right, then to the left.

And?

And you remember it to this day?

The first day I came to the country.

Why?

Because I was born in the country.

That will show you the way.

He looks at the landscape.

That is the way to the country.

And you are still there.

Yes, because of the way to the country.

Why?

The way is the way to the country.

And you are still there.

That is the way to the country.

Why?

Have you a canary bird?

We will have a bright fire in the open grate.

You are hale and hearty for an old man.

Did the men put all the hay in the barn?

We want a very careful operator for the work.

Did you mail the letter that I gave you?

I hope it will not rain to-day.

A little rain would be very beneficial.

I dropped my bundle on the hard pavement.

The traitor should be punished immediately.

Will you take a Broadway car?

I will have a quire of that paper.

There was a heavy blast.

It will take a while to find

Open fields.

There are hills and country to be seen

and

Old the land and old the sea in time

and

It was a very beautiful sight to see

and

Old the land and old the sea in time

and

I hope it will not be long

A little more and it will be gone

I thought it would be the end of

The light should be gone

quiz

Yes, if you please.

Were you there at the same time?

The boys were playing in the sand.

Will you have some lobster salad?

Will you take apple sauce?

I see you are inclined to be critical.

I have sold that house.

I went there yesterday.

We have had several applications for the position.

I do not see any sign of a storm,
do you?

I have bought a white silk scarf.

I hear the sound of hoofs.

What is the secret of your success?

How is your sister?

You have some fine cedar trees.

Give me some simple story.

Is Cooperstown at the northern end of the lake?

Shall we drive around the swamp?

Can you swim? This is a sweet apple.

The bird flew swiftly over the water.

I admire the woman's spirit.

I have said that I have

Where will you spend the summer?

That paper is too small.

I would like a square envelope.

Have you paper of a smooth surface?

How beautiful those flowers are!

I put two stamps on that letter.

Did you come up stairs too fast?

Will this train stop at Albany?

Oh! look at the beautiful green grass.

Does it snow to-day?

Have you seen the statue of Nathan Hale in City Hall Park?

Will you go out sleighing this afternoon?

Remember it is slow but sure.

Will you have some roast beef?

Have you been out skating this morning?

That is a fine scheme.

What a beautiful blue sky!

This is like a spring day.

Have you noticed that beautiful crimson rose?

I caught a glimpse of you going around the corner.

Be careful or you will spoil your dress.

Have you seen the magazines of this month?

We have read several of his articles in the magazines.

That is a new institution.

Seeing is believing.

Did you understand what I said?

We have not seen the people since our last visit to them.

The service has commenced.

Our friends left for Paris yesterday.

Have you seen the professor of chemistry at the University?

I will send the parcel by express.

The exercises will commence at half past seven o'clock.

I should think it might prove to be an interesting exhibition .

We prefer a fast sailing yacht.

At last we are home safe and sound.

The little girl has a sweet disposition.

Has the bank closed?

APPENDIX.

Let me carry your satchel for you.

Will you take your sketch book with
you?

Are you a Scotchman?

Did you go to church last Sunday?

Are you chilly?

What a remarkable chain of circumstances!

Will you have some cherries?

Come to the window and see this torch light procession.

Are you fond of peaches?

Which book will you take?

Will you paint a branch of peach blossoms?

Watch the child and do not let him touch the machine.

Would you like to play a game of chess?

Let us choose new quarters.

Can you draw a chalk picture?

Did the man catch his train?

We were completely drenched.

Take this chair.

Do you hear the bird chirp?

The goods were sold cheap.

You did not latch the door.

Let me take a stitch for you.

Try to be cheerful.

The man is lame and goes on crutches.

Have you a match?

The vessel gave a sudden lurch.

The orator made an eloquent speech.

A fine chime of bells have been added to the church.

A large number of guests were present.
The soldiers marched under the Washington arch.

No subject has received more attention than this one.

I want a jar of strawberry jam.

Have you ever visited Smith College?

Did James pass the June examination for College?

The occupants of the stage were in danger.

It is an old adage.

You were very courageous.

Shall we change our quarters?

We met some friends on the voyage from San Francisco to Japan.

We sail in July.

John and Virginia have started on their journey.

That is the engineer.

We crossed a ridge of the mountains.

Shall I get your baggage checked for you?

There are jewels in that package.

Joseph has received an appointment in the College.

His friends are jubilant.

Will you take some jelly?

Your judgment was good.

Justice shall be done.

The boy uses excellent language.

We crossed a bridge over a stream.

Would you like to study the Japanese language?

Will you take a ride in my carriage?

My horses are very gentle.

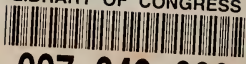

Will you join our party?

Did you see the large engine?
